

Evaluation Of Commercial Energy Program In Pacific Northwest

Client

Facts

Period 2002

Project Country

By Economic Development Research Group, 2002

Economic Development Research Group was part of a multi-firm team performing an evaluation of the market effects of the Energy Star Home Appliance program operated by the Northwest Energy Efficiency Alliance in four Pacific Northwest States.

The study included characterizing the evolving markets for Energy Star products and brands, as well as conducting on-going research on market and other factors affecting market transformation.

Contact Persons