Client	Facts
Pacaso	Period	2022
	Project Country	United States

For Pacaso, a real estate startup that sells shares of individual vacation properties to multiple buyers, EBP to estimated the economic impact the company has on five regions it operates in: New York City and Long Island, South Florida, San Francisco, Palm Springs, and Colorado's ski areas.

Using a combination of publicly available consumer expenditure data and housing market data from Pacaso, EBP estimated the incremental growth in household spending and local tax revenue stemming from having second homes occupied more days of the year than they would be otherwise.
